DESIGN BETWEEN & BEYOND WALLS AND SPACES ON WATER

INTRODUCTION

The 2nd edition of the Glyn Peter Machin product book once again illustrates adventurous design that aspires one to be different. Our creative and uncompromising direction of introducing products that are innovative and different for the respective environments we develop them for remains passionately strong.

This is a book of products and possibilities providing not only designs in production but also ideas and opportunity to develop custom ideas. Its a book for professionals and private individuals whom are active in the art of creating sophisticated, relaxed and comfortable spaces for their clients, friends or family to enjoy.

Designs featured in this edition focus mainly upon luxury exteriors, however almost all of our designs have a unique and appealing twist in that they can just as easily be transformed to function as interior pieces. This is where our custom expertise flourishes.

Given the flexibility and creative possibilities available we rarely conform to standard design as such dimensional info is not listed.

PRODUCTS

Every product created under the Glyn Peter Machin brand enters into an open ended series of eclectic collections. Each is specifically designed to furnish, decorate and complement the exteriors and interiors of luxury residences, exclusive hotels and resorts, spa retreats and an area which we excel within... the spacious decks of super yachts.

Each piece is developed down to the finest detail and manufactured in small quantities or in most cases only made to order. This quantity policy exemplifies our unique desire to achieve excellence, retain exclusivity and maintain the superior standards clients are accustomed to receiving from Glyn Peter Machin's studio. Our designs are typically commissioned by private clients, architects and interior designers as well as interested licensees. Selected pieces are available at retail level through luxury goods stores around the world.

Furniture designs featured within this edition of our product book exemplifies how innovative one can be when extending ones creativity and desire to create something different for relaxed casual environments between and beyond walls and spaces on water.

DESIGN

Glyn Peter Machin specialize in creating significant one of a kind pieces, small groups or even large one off collections for special projects or licensees looking to expand their own product line with intelligent design. The depth of knowledge and creativity within our studio allows us to develop one of a kind ideas for specific areas and everything we do is planned down to the last detail.

By collectively contributing our passion for design, our product development capabilities and production skills we are able to follow a custom commission from a blank piece of paper through to final installation. Our sole aim in this exciting design category is to listen to a clients imagination. Then realise everything they have imagined in a piece of furniture or glassware but could not find . We adapt ourselves to new projects where ever the location or the setting. Whether it be a custom commission for furniture or glassware our team excel.

The purpose of custom design is to ensure our clients individual style is achieved not least to the highest quality standards expected. A super yacht or private residence that is adorned with beautiful pieces characteristic of a clients own personality is what we create.
